

International Workshop «Young Investigators»

April 3-6 2013

From Radiobiology to Radiotherapy

● Objectives

The “Cancéropôle Grand Sud-Ouest” (South-West Interregional Cancer Network) is glad to present a new scientific event aimed at young scientists. This European Workshop will allow presenting and discussing recent findings in oncology related domains. The format of the meeting (narrow scientific research themes, <60 participants, full pension in an isolated - yet beautiful - place) is deliberately designed to:

- Increase the visibility of research carried out within the Cancéropôle Grand Sud-Ouest and setup research networks between its labs and European counterparts
- Foster exchanges and communication between junior and senior scientists.

● Date and Location

The meeting will take place in the Vallée de Lesponne in the Pyrenees in the Domaine de Ramonjuan (<http://www.ramonjuan.com/en/>)

From Wednesday April 3rd (afternoon) to Saturday April 6th (noon) 2013

● Audience

- 25 young researchers (PhD or Post-Doc) selected for oral communication
- 5 international experts (Introductory conferences)
- 20 à 30 participants (Possibly colleagues of young researchers)

● Meeting format

- 5 Sessions opened par 5 invited conferences to introduce the scientific session theme
- 25 Oral communications selected from abstracts sent by young researchers
- Travel and accommodation grants will be offered to scientists selected for oral communications and invited conferences
- Participants and accompanies will have to pay for registration and accommodation up to €300.

● Pre-program 2013

- 5 scientific themes were selected for 2013:
- External Radiotherapy (EBRT)
